

Chico Community Organizer Training

Building Winning Campaigns for Conservation, Social & Environmental Justice

9am-5pm, Friday, April 1, 9am-3:30pm, Saturday April 2

Lakeside Pavilion, Chico, CA

What: A two-day, in-person interactive training, hosted by the Community Governance Partnership, and facilitated by our Executive Trainer David Hunt, a senior staff alum of the Midwest Academy, internationally recognized for his training and facilitation.

Featuring Special Guest Speakers Audrey Denney, Susan Jane Brown of the Western Environmental Law Center, and local experts on the latest in forest planning and fire recovery efforts.

You will learn to use:

Organizing Skills

- Power Mapping, Direct Action Strategic Planning, and a variety of other tools to address social problems and the process for grassroots-driven policy change and explore the difference between service provision and organizing and how they can work together.

Strategic Skills

- Learn to identify, develop and use measurable effective power when confronting organized power, as well as the forms and definitions of organized power needed depending on the decision maker.

Organizing & Campaign Strategies

- Learn to use a strategy chart to strategically identify and develop a winning strategy for an issue campaign while also building the power of organizations and coalitions. Acquire the skills required to develop and run issue campaigns that create lasting social, environmental, and equity change. In this training, the second day will use forest planning efforts as a frame for organizing.

Who: We seek participants who have made, or wish to make, an ongoing commitment to community organizing work; have existing roles in activism, environmental, social and environmental organizations; or have a background or strong professional interest in advocacy, coalition building and campaigns. All organizing backgrounds welcome!

Sliding Cost: $50 - $500 - Partial and full scholarships are available as part of the application. Don't let cost be a factor! The deadline to apply is March 25, 2022. Seating is limited to 50. Email Miranda for a training application at steward@becnet.org or adam@cgovpartnership.org

The vision of the Community Governance Partnership is to break down long standing barriers between conservation, labor, small business, social justice and environmental justice organizations to form and facilitate pragmatic, action-based progressive partnerships in central and northern California. We have graduated over 500 activists from our trainings! See past training agendas and testimonials at cgovpartnership.org/programs.
